PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE, AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U.S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

NO. 78 STATE STREET, BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The undersigned (Agent of the U.S. Patent Office, under Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for patents, superior to those offered by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Careful Specifications, Assignments, and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringements of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 50 per cent less than those of others in the profession,) but avail themselves of the experience of 20 years practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct and complete patents granted in this and other countries; besides he has saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. LOST CHILD.—The Greenbrier (Va.) Era states that a little son of Thos. Maddox, some nineteen months old, wandered from home on the afternoon of Saturday, the 17th and got lost in the woods. At dark (says the Era) the alarm was given to the neighbors, and some fifteen men were in search for the child the entire night, first by the light of the moon, and then by torch-light.

Their search was in vain. The night grew cold and the wind blew hard. The search was continued on Saturday morning. About eight o'clock it was found by the father. As the shout passed from one to another that the "lost was found," a thrill of joy was awakened in the mother's heart that may be conceived but not expressed.

The child was alive, but chilled and insensible. It had wandered in the woods half a mile, and, tumbling over a steep

On Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, the body of W. G. Webster, (well known as a newspaper vendor in front of the Times office) was found lying in a pool of blood, on one of the stair landings in his boarding house, No. 66 Gold street. Mr. Webster had his legs amputated many years ago, both being frozen white, lambling on the rivers in Maine; ever since he had walked on wooden ones. There is no doubt that while going up stairs on Saturday he slipped, and was precipitated to the bottom. His spine was broken, and he was terribly bruised about the head and body, and must have been killed instantly. An inquest was held yesterday and a verdict of accidental death returned. He is said to be related to Hon. Daniel Webster, and a man of education. The loss of his limbs forced him to gain his humble livelihood in a humble way. He was every day to be seen, rosin or shine. His misfortune, his singular attention to business, and his modest deportment attracted much attention, and made him as much liked as he was universally known.—N.Y. Express.

J. C. Fremont has taken a house in New York during the winter, that he may enjoy greater facilities in preparing and publishing the result of his Pacific Railroad explorations, which will be ready for the press before the adjournment of congress.

SAN ACCIDENT.—The locomotive "Clinton," exploded last evening, near Peppari, on the Worcester and Nashua Railroad the engineer, Mr. Gilson, was killed—the further particulars we have not learned.—Worcester Transcript.

A single hour in the day given to the study of some interesting subject, brings unexpected accumulation of knowledge.

BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

We are favored with beautiful weather and our streets present quite a holiday appearance.

At an early hour crowds wended their way to the Capitol, and the galleries, particularly that of the House, are crowded to excess, and many are not able to find accommodation.

The U. S. Supreme Court met this morning all the members but the Chief Justice being present.

SENATE.—The Senate was called to order at noon, and new members were sworn.

House.—Mr. Forney, the Clerk, called the House of Representatives to order at noon. The confusion which existed up to this time abruptly terminated.

Two hundred and twenty-five members answered to their names. On motion of Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, the House proceeded to the election of a speaker, viva voce. Nominations were made with the following result:

Mr. Richardson, of Illinois 75
Mr. Fuller, Pennsylvania 17
Mr. Campbell, of Ohio 53
Mr. Pennington, of New Jersey 7
Mr. Marshall, of Kentucky 30
Mr. Banks, of Massachusetts 21

Some others were also voted for. No election, 113 being necessary to a choice. Much interest is manifested in the contest.

A MAN SHOT BY A WATCHMAN.—A coroner's jury was summoned on Saturday to investigate the facts in connexion with the death of John Salley, an Irishman, who was killed on Friday evening by Henry P. Snow, one of the city watchmen. A number of witnesses were examined, when the further investigation was postponed until this afternoon. The facts elicited were in substance, that the deceased and James McGee, who were at the time under the influence of liquor went to the house of a Mrs. Gromley to fight with her son. They were ordered out of the house and refused to go. Susan Gromley ran into the street and cried watch five or six times and then murder. McGee and Salley went out and McGee caught hold of Miss Gromley. Mr. Snow came up and took him from her and asked his partner, Mr. Francis for his cord to tie him as he was very violent and refused to go with them. Salley told them they should not take McGee away, and attempted to rescue him, and struck Snow a severe blow in the face. Mr. Snow then left McGee in the hands of Francis and attempted to arrest the deceased, who struck him four or five more blows on the head and face, one of which staggered him against the fence. McGee struck a blow at Snow and then ran off, and has not since been seen by the police. The jury will finish their investigation this afternoon and we shall publish the result to-morrow morning.—Prov. Post.

MILITARY AND SCIENTIFIC CHARACTER OF RUSSIAN OFFICERS.—The London Times of the 9th instant, in one of its leading editorials, expresses itself in the following terms of the superior efficiency of the Russian army:—

"Nothing has come out more clearly in the course of this war than the high military and scientific character of the Russian officers. Through a trial of unexampled severity they have shown themselves in every way worthy of the confidence of their master and of the reputation of a great military monarchy. Ardent in attack, undaunted in retreat, full of skill, energy, and resources under all circumstances, masters of the three languages of the three belligerent Powers, it makes one shudder to reflect what such a band of officers might accomplish if supported by troops worthy of such leaders. The Russian army, like our own, is officered by gentlemen, but by gentlemen who have not merely the rank and courage of their class, but its education and its acquirements. While poor General Simpson cannot even attempt a single word of French, a vast number of the officers of Russian army speak our language as well as ourselves. Their scientific defence was a silent satire on our rude attack, and the superiority in skill of the champions of barbarism over those of civilization is written in our best blood."

DEPLORABLE INTELLIGENCE FROM CAPE DE VERDE ISLANDS.—A letter has been received by Com. Thomas Crabbe, Commander in Chief of the American naval forces, coast of Africa, from the United States Vice Consul at St. Vincent, Cape de Verde, bearing date October 23d, 1855, in which it stated that the poor of St. Antonio are in a dreadful state of famine.

The rains have quite failed, and the crops have all dried up, so that the people have been compelled to eat banana stalks. Little or no communication is to be had with vessels in the harbor, which makes the matter worse. He says that numbers have died for want of food, and craves assistance from the Americans, who, he truly says, "are always ready to relieve the wants of the unfortunate."

A GOOD OLD POEM.

Who shall judge a man from nature?
Who shall know him by his deeds?

Poverty may be for his price;
Pride may be for his price;
Cramped hand and dry jacket
May be for his price;
Of the deepest thought and feeling,
Satan's voice could do no more.

There are springs of crystal water
Ever swelling out of stone—
There are pearls and rubies
Hidden, quaked and overgrown,
God, who counts by souls, not dresses,
Loves and prospers you and me,
While the vulgar thrives the highest
But as pebbles on the sea.

Man, upraised above his fellows,
O'er his fellows then;
Man, ruler, lord, remember
That your dearest hands are men;
Man of labor, man of feeling,
Man by thought and man by fame,
Claiming equal rights to sunshine
In man's ennobling name.

There are foam-embroidered oceans,
There are little weed-chad rills,
There are feeble inch-long saplings,
There are cedars on the hills,
God, who counts by souls not stations,
Loves and prospers you and me;
For to him all vain distinctions
Are as pebbles on the sea.

Toiling hands alone are builders
Of a nation's wealth and fame;
Titled laziness is passionless,
Fed and fattened on the same,
By the sweat of other's forehead,
Living only to rejoice.

While the poor man's outraged freedom
Vainly lifts up his voice;
Truth and justice are eternal,
Born with levelness and light;
Secret wrongs shall never prosper
While there is a starry night.

God, whose word-heard voice is singing
Boundless love to you and me,
Shin oppression with its titles,
As the pebbles on the sea.

THE FAMINE IN ZANTE.—The Boston Advertiser publishes a letter from the Greek island of Zante gratefully acknowledging the receipt of 500 sacks of Indian corn, contributed by the inhabitants of Boston and other cities in the United States for the relief of the sufferers from famine in that island.

LADIES' GRAVE.—A New York correspondent says:—

"Laces, diamonds and furs are 'fixed facts' for this winter's regalia. The old yellow baby caps hid in our grandmothers' trunks, are looked up, and their ornaments appear on youthful busts. A new article, called California diamonds, is selling at half the price of the Court jewelry, and shines with equal brilliancy."

THE United States frigate Potomac, commanded by Com. Paulding, with a full crew of 500 men, sailed on Thursday, 1st inst., for New York, which is highly creditable to the energy and industry of her officers and crew. It is supposed that she will arrive at Greytown about Christmas.

GAME IN NEW YORK.—It is estimated by the Journal of Commerce that there are sold in the markets of New York, during the year 40,000 wood cocks, 36,000 partridges, 10,000 rabbits, 20,000 canvas back ducks, 5000 brant, 3000 mallard, and 30,000-black ducks, 5000 wild geese, 10,000 dozen plover and 25000 dozen wild pigeons. Large quantities of game, however, are shipped to Europe from New York by the steamers. Canvas back ducks command high prices in England.

HAIR-DYE.—A man was placed, a few days ago, in a lunatic asylum at Berlin to be treated for mental alienation brought on by the use of hair-dye. On examining the dye which he had employed, it was ascertained to be composed of lead, mercury, and lunar caustic. It produced violent pains in the head, and to length led to madness. London Times of November 9.

If a well-bred woman is apprised in careless costume, she does not try to judge her. She had the door to conceal her dress, and does she turn red and stammer, and blush, and makes up her face, and what she may want in decorum.

Winter Wheat.—The Chicago Citizen says the Fall sown wheat looks vigorous and thrifty as the farmer could desire. The plentiful rains have been as good as guano in rooting the crops, to stand the severities of the coming winter. Reports from other directions are favorable.

Mary Moriarty, an Irish girl, who killed her seducer, an Irishman, at Memphis a month or two ago, has been tried and acquitted. The jury were out a few minutes only. The trial excited unusual interest. All the members of the Memphis bar appeared for the defendant.

A PHRENOLOGIST POSED.—An itinerant phrenologist stopped at a rustic farmhouse, the proprietor of which was busily engaged in threshing. "Sir, I am a Phrenologist. Would you like to have me examine the heads of your children? I will do it cheap." "Well" said the farmer, pausing between two strokes, "I rather guess they don't need it. The old woman comes with a fine tooth comb once a week!"

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." So sang the great poet Keats. What can be more beautiful than a head of hair, that nobles of nature's glories? Who that is young, but values the luxuriant locks of youth, and would preserve them? And who that is old, but would commend Lyon's Kathairon universally acknowledged to be the most valuable and the most delightfully perfumed toilet article ever prepared. Be it said for Lyon's Kathairon, to guard against the valueless imitations and counterfeits, which have lately been put up under somewhat similar names. Sold every where for only 25 cents per bottle.
